Unbelief the soul dismays,

| l, - t, - d - r - | t, - l, - s, - - - |
What objections will it raise!

| d - t, - l, - d - | f - m - r - - - |
But true faith se- curely leans

| s - f - m - r - | d - t, - d - - - |
On the promise, in the means.

The other verses

2 If to faith it once be known,
God has said, "It shall be done,
And in this appointed way;"
Faith has then no more to say.

3 Moses' rod, by faith upreared,
Through the sea a path prepared;
Jericho's devoted wall,
At the trumpet's sound must fall.

4 With a pitcher and a lamp,
Gideon overthrew a camp
And a stone, well aimed by faith,
Proved the armed Philistine's death.

5 Thus the Lord is pleased to try
Those who on his help rely;
By the means he makes it known,
That the pow'r is all his own.

6 Yet the means are not in vain,
If the end we would attain;
Though the breath of prayer be weak,
None shall find, but they who seek.

7 God alone the heart can reach;
Yet the ministers must preach;
'Tis their part the seed to sow,
And 'tis his to make it grow.
